If your office needs a network printer that's big on features but compact in size, you should opt for the HL-5070N.

The requirement to share information quickly in the modern business environment makes the need for effective networking more important than ever.

The HL-5070N from Brother more than meets this demand with its 10/100 Base-TX Ethernet connectivity as standard and couple this with a print resolution of up to 2400 x 600 dpi, a High Speed USB 2.0 port and an output of up to 16 pages per minute, lack of efficiency in your working environment is a thing of the past.

The HL-5070N also features up to 250 sheet* paper cassette and up to 50 sheet* multi-purpose tray, making this a truly versatile partner for your office.
